

Stable Leadership™

Grooming tomorrow's leaders today!

"Interacting with horses can help people develop key leadership traits including self-awareness, self-management, social awareness, and relationship management, according to a groundbreaking research project conducted at the University of Kentucky in collaboration with The Horse Institute.®"

Horses4Heroes, a Las Vegas-based non-profit that runs Equine Assisted Learning (EAL) workshops for veterans with PTS/MST/TBI, domestic violence victims, recovering addicts, and at-risk youth and teens, introduces Stable Leadership, a program created just for businesses and companies.

EAL can address many common workforce issues including, but not limited to:

- ★ Leadership Skills and Development
- ★ Becoming an effective communicator (verbal and non-verbal)
- ★ Passive Conflict Resolution (stress, anger, anxiety management)
- ★ Problem Solving
- ★ Team Building
- ★ Tolerance and Diversity (sexual harassment, transgender issues, bullying)
- ★ Morale Boosting

Sessions take place in historic Floyd Lamb Park at Tule Springs, the only park in Las Vegas that was once a working cattle ranch. A typical day-long session will include a morning and afternoon workshop, a luncheon with local employment and labor law attorneys, and opportunities for community service. Each session is customized for your company and your goals. Workshops are ideal for managers, executives, trainees and anyone working directly with your customers or the public. Participants come away with a new sense of self-confidence, self-esteem and self-worth and overall feel empowered, engaged, and inspired. This is the only program like it offered in Las Vegas!
